

Application to include a coffee variety in the World Coffee Research Arabica Coffee Varieties catalog

Applicant information

Name:

Email:

Title:

Company:

Country:

Brief description of applicant's interest in this variety:

Variety profile information

Please carefully read the description of the variable values given below at the following location, and make sure the data you supply is aligned in with these definitions:

<https://varieties.worldcoffeeresearch.org/info/catalog/how-to/variables>

Name of variety:

Alternate names by which variety is known:

Appearance:

Leaf tip color:

Bean size:

Optimal altitude:

Quality potential at high altitude:

Yield potential:

Coffee leaf rust:

Coffee berry disease:

Nematodes:

Year of first production:

Nutrition requirement:

Ripening of fruit:

Cherry to green bean outturn:

Planting density:

Additional agronomic information:

Lineage:

Genetic description:

Breeder of record:

Intellectual property right:

Variety narrative information

How is the variety mass propagated (cuttings, seed, other, etc.)?

Are there certified seed stocks for this variety? If so, please list known seed suppliers.

Describe the variety's history/development/selection process:

Describe how the variety is different from similar varieties already listed in the catalog (see varieties.worldcoffeeresearch.org for full list):

Supporting documentation

Please attach all of the following documentation in support of your application.

- Breeder's rights document issued by a nationally or internationally recognized authority (if applicable)
- Multiannual field evaluation data to validate the profile information given above including yield, disease resistance, bean size, cupping scores, and any other pertinent data. Data submitted may be published or unpublished. The source of the data must be clearly indicated.